BURSA MALAYSIA CAUTIONS INVESTORS AGAINST INVESTMENT SCAMS

Bursa Malaysia Berhad continues to urge the public to be wary and alert of investment scams. The Exchange has noted an increase in reports of investment scams, with scammers using various social media channels, including popular chat applications such as WhatsApp, Telegram and iMessage, to lure unsuspecting members of the public to participate in dubious investment schemes. Bursa Malaysia advises members of the public to be vigilant when approached by parties misrepresenting themselves as the Exchange, its employees or endorsed third party agents.

According to a report issued by the Ministry of Communications & Digital, Malaysians lost almost RM600 million in 2022, up from RM511 million in 2021, due to online scams and other cybercrimes. The most recent scam noted is on WhatsApp, where recipients are prompted to follow up on their trading accounts, or join a WhatsApp group, by calling a name and mobile number provided in the WhatsApp message. Bursa Malaysia categorically denies issuing this communication.

As with previous occasions, these scammers misuse the Bursa Malaysia name and logo, as well as misrepresenting themselves as employees of the Exchange. Other recent scams include using names and photographs of Bursa Malaysia's top management to entice members of the public to invest in unauthorised investment schemes. Bursa Malaysia would also like to remind members of the public to only invest with licensed investment professionals. Whenever in doubt, please visit Bursa Academy at <https://bursaacademy.bursamarketplace.com/en/investor-alert> for a list of licensed intermediaries and representatives.

The #StayAlert initiative is part of Bursa Malaysia's ongoing public service to educate members of the public against investment scams, which includes the on-going Sens-Ability financial management programme. In relation to this, the Exchange has released a series of online posts about different types of scams misrepresenting Bursa Malaysia, which include social media scams, Telegram groups, as well as the use of forged letterheads and logos. Members of the public may view these awareness postings on the Bursa Academy website. To gain the right investment knowledge and tools in order to make informed decisions and identify fraudulent activities, members of the public are invited to visit Bursa Malaysia's website www.bursamalaysia.com and the following official microsites and social media channels:

MALAYSIAN CAPITAL MARKET REMAINS ROBUST AMIDST UNCERTAIN GLOBAL MARKETS - SC

According to Securities Commission Malaysia (SC) Corporate Finance and Investments executive director Datuk Zain Azhari Mazlan, the Malaysian capital market remained robust and orderly amidst weaker global financial markets and uncertain geopolitical conflicts. The SC is confident it would continue to play a significant role in financing economic growth and mobilising savings for productive investments. In his keynote address at the 2023 Morningstar Fund Awards Malaysia, he said global financial markets registered weaker performance last year with the continued tightening of global financial conditions. Further intensification of geopolitical conflicts significantly increased overall uncertainties in 2022, and this, along with other factors, will shape the outlook of the global market going forward.

The resilience of Malaysia's economy was evidenced by full-year gross domestic product (GDP) growth of 8.7 per cent, which was underpinned by favourable domestic demand momentum, steady expansion in the external sector, and continued improvement in labour market conditions. As the capital market evolves, with technological innovation and increasingly complex products, investors tend to benefit from better access, choice, and information in relation to investments. Concurrently, this also presents increased risks and new challenges, especially for investors who are less adept and at greater risk of exploitation. The SC is cognisant of responding to these changes in upholding its mandate for investor protection. As such, the SC's regulatory approach, moving forward, will place greater emphasis on the identification and assessment of vulnerable investors.

On the global outlook for 2023, this year is expected to be challenging and subject to various uncertainties, from the pace of the monetary policy normalisation to geopolitical fragmentation. Domestically, the economy is expected to grow moderately, around 4.5 per cent, based on projections by the Ministry of Finance. The SC remained committed to progressive policymaking, aiming to be adaptive to changes and use novel means to achieve intended outcomes.

The SC, together with private retirement schemes (PRS) providers, will be exploring how behavioural interventions can be leveraged to encourage greater retirement savings amongst Malaysians. This involves designing interventions to nudge Malaysians into making better decisions for retirement. An example is to automating regular PRS contributions and introducing spare-change saving features.

The SC would continue to emphasise strategic engagement with all key stakeholders for more inclusive development of the capital market by developing an industry-wide survey to all fund management firms to seek perspectives on challenges and opportunities to catalyse the next phase of growth for the Malaysian fund management industry.

CAPITAL GAIN TAX - A BITTER PILL TO SWALLOW?

Devanesan

Shareholders Watch Group

The re-tabling of Budget 2023 recently has seen Prime Minister and Finance Minister Datuk Seri Anwar Ibrahim announcing the proposal to introduce capital gains tax (CGT) on the disposal of non-listed shares from 2024 onwards. The introduction of CGT could be a sign that the government may introduce more taxes on capital items in the future. For now, retail shareholders can breathe a sigh of relief as there is no CGT on the disposal of publicly listed shares. Again, there is a possibility of CGT being imposed on transactions of publicly listed shares in the foreseeable future.

FOR THE SUPPORTERS

Taxing capital gains on the disposal of publicly listed shares generates revenue for governments which can be used to support public services and infrastructure. The idea is to tax those who have made profits from share investments. CGT has become a means to redistribute wealth to those in need via public services.

CGT on the profits made from the sale of stocks is common in the United States. The tax rate on capital gains depends on various factors, such as the length of time the stocks were held and the level of taxable income. Generally, the US CGT rate for long-term stocks investment is lower than for short-term stock investments (held for one year or less). That gives investors a financial incentive to hold investments for at least a year, after which the tax on the profit will be lower.

Day traders and others taking advantage of the ease and speed of trading online will have their profits from buying and selling shares held less than a year not just being taxed - but being taxed at a higher rate than shares that are held long-term. Another way of seeing this is that CGT on disposal of publicly listed shares may encourage long-term investments by making short-term trading less attractive.

Closer to home, gains on shares listed on the Indonesian stock exchange are subject to a tax of 0.1% of the transaction value.

FOR THE NON-SUPPORTERS

Conversely, most investors, especially retail investors, fear CGT as it reduces their investment returns. Retail investors tend to transact in small amounts to make short and long-term profits. They often rely on share investments to make a quick buck, pocket money or build their passive income for retirement.

Imposing CGT on publicly listed shares transactions may discourage trading activities, impacting the vibrancy and attractiveness of Bursa Malaysia. The saying goes, 'high risk, high return'. However, for retail shareholders, taxing capital gains from the sale of shares is tantamount to taking the same higher risks, but for lower returns. This will likely discourage investing as the returns will be lower than before.

Share investment will become less attractive, which may negatively impact the Malaysian stock exchange, especially when Singapore and Hong Kong stock markets' do not impose CGT on publicly listed shares dealings. We may lose our retail investors to neighbouring stock exchanges.

CONCLUSION

CGT is a contentious subject with its myriad pros and cons. We are often caught in this love-hate relationship when it comes to CGT. Any move to tax capital gains on publicly listed shares dealings would dampen the attractiveness of the Malaysian stock exchange. The introduction of such a tax, if ever in the future, should be carefully thought through, especially the benefits and drawbacks of it. We would not want to be caught in a situation of short-term gain, long-term pain!
