Individuals to be exempted from tax on foreign-sourced income - MOF

According to the Ministry of Finance (MOF), the government has agreed to exempt all types of foreign incomes of individuals from tax, and has also extended the exemption to dividend incomes earned by limited liability companies and partnerships. This would be subject to the eligibility criteria which will be detailed in the Inland Revenue Board's guidelines. For individual taxpayers, the government provides exemption to all individuals except those who conduct business partnership in Malaysia, which will be subject to tax on foreign-sourced income (FSI) received. Non-resident categories (individuals, companies, etc) remain eligible for income tax exemption. At the same time, FSI received in the year of assessment 2022 is exempt from tax calculation for the purpose of Cukai Makmur. The exemption would be effective Jan 1, 2022 until Dec 31, 2026. During the tabling of Budget 2022, the government had proposed the withdrawal of the tax exemption on FSI received in Malaysia, which had caused a stir among companies and individuals, especially those with significant investments abroad. The exemption on FSI has been in place since 1998 for companies and since 2004 for individuals, in a bid to encourage remittance of such income. The withdrawal of the exemption is part of its revenue sustainability measures, adding that it is in line with international regulations.

Policy transition raises risk of volatility in 2022 - Kenanga Research

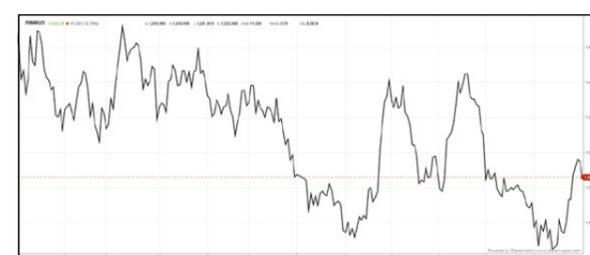

According to Kenanga Research in its investment strategy note, Malaysia's policy transition from monetary accommodation and fiscal expansion to austerity and consolidation raises the risk of volatility in the stock market in 2022. However this is only likely to happen in the second half of the year and after the 15th general election (GE15). Until then, conditions are supportive for positive stock market returns as liquidity remains ample, while value has emerged following 2021's steep market decline and regional underperformance. And for all the anxieties that the recent floods have caused, the implied Q4'21 earnings results already suggested that Q4'21's earnings would be the lowest. This is despite commodity prices holding up and a surge in economic reopening activities (briefly disrupted by the floods notwithstanding), plus encouraging data of leading economic indicators released recently. However, catalysts were lacking and there would be the usual pre-election inertia that would drag the market's advance, and so, returns would not be broad-based. While the severe floods in mid-December would likely impact Q4'21 earnings, the market had already projected very conservative earnings estimates around lockdown-related impacts, which may have been overly aggressive, given anecdotal evidence of a surge in economic reopening activities. Several signs suggested the likelihood of GE15 being called well before the July 2023 deadline, including the resounding win by the Barisan Nasional in the November Melaka state election, followed by the convincing win by its close ally, Gabungan Parti Sarawak, recently. Additionally, economic data released in Q4'21 suggested the current recovery was intact for now, and would likely hit the government's targeted 3% to 4% growth. The Opposition is more fragmented after the Sheraton Move and it looks highly unlikely for Pakatan Harapan, Bersatu and Parti Pejuang to regroup. And finally, the pandemic looks to be subsiding. These events should likely embolden the ruling coalition to call an election possibly as early as Q2'22. Meanwhile liquidity remained ample and no tightening is expected in Q1'22. The tightening would only likely be a post-GE15 event. When Bank Negara finally tightens by raising the overnight policy rate and statutory reserve requirement, the research house expects heightened market volatility as liquidity reduces.

“Record High”

Markets

What an eventful week it has been for markets. Not only did the Dow Jones Industrial Average (DJIA) and the S&P 500 hit fresh record highs, the one thing that has been bugging markets over the past two years is back with a vengeance as the number of Covid-19 cases globally hit a fresh record high of 1.59mil on Wednesday. Malaysia too achieved a new record high as total trade for the year, with December data yet to be published, has already surpassed the RM2 trillion mark.

Meanwhile, the government has reinstated the stamp duty on share trading activities but with a higher cap of RM1,000 instead of the current RM200 per transaction. This is a reversal from the proposed measure in Budget 2022 where the cap was removed. However, the higher stamp duty rate of 0.15% from the current rate of 0.1% will remain unchanged as proposed earlier. The new rate is applicable with effect from January 1, 2022, and up to December 31, 2026. In addition, the government has also revised the type of income that will be taxable under the Foreign Sourced Income whereby all types of income received by individuals that are remitted to Malaysia will continue to be exempted. Companies, partnerships, and limited liability companies will enjoy an exemption for dividend income that is remitted to Malaysia.

Economy

Out of the US, the headline Personal Consumption Expenditure for November surged 5.7% y-o-y – the fastest pace since 1982, while the core PCE for the same month climbed 4.7% y-o-y – the highest increase since February 1989. Meanwhile, thanks to the purchase of commercial aircraft orders, Durable Goods Order rose 2.5% m-o-m in November and was well ahead of the market forecast of a 1.8% rise. In other news, the final University of Michigan's Consumer Sentiment came in at 70.6 from the preliminary print of 70.4. From the US housing market, the November New Home Sales jumped 12.4% m-o-m to an annual rate of 744,000 but this was still below the market forecast of an annualized rate of 766,000 and down some 14% compared with a year ago. In related news, the November Pending Home Sales Index fell by 2.7% y-o-y to 122.4 pts.

Vietnam became among the first to release 4Q GDP data among ASEAN nations with a 5.22% y-o-y growth for the quarterly period, up from the revised 6.02% y-o-y contraction in the preceding quarter. The headline GDP growth data easily beat the market forecast of a 3.7% y-o-y expansion. For the year, the Vietnamese economy expanded by 2.58%, well ahead of the market forecast of a 2.2% growth.

Locally, Malaysia's November external trade data was impressive as exports surged by 32.4% y-o-y to RM112.2bil while imports rose by 38% y-o-y to RM93.3bil, resulting in a trade surplus of RM18.9bil, up 10.5% y-o-y. For the cumulative 11 months period, Malaysia's exports totalled RM1.116 trillion, up 25.7% y-o-y. Growth in imports too was respectable as total imports for the first 11 months period of 2021 were higher by 23.3% y-o-y to RM894.4bil. As a result, the nation's total trade surplus improved by 36.2% y-o-y to reach a record RM221.5bil, as Malaysia's total trade surged 24.6% y-o-y to hit RM2.01 trillion.

In other economic data released this week showed Producer Price Index (PPI) for November stayed stubbornly high as the index rose by 12.6% y-o-y, despite easing from the preceding month's print of 13.2% y-o-y jump. Mining recorded the highest increase as that sector's index rose by a staggering 71.2% y-o-y, followed by a 19.2% y-o-y rise in Agriculture, Forestry, and Fishing sector's index.

Meanwhile, the severe flooding in many parts of the country may see a significant rise in insurance claims. According to Persatuan Insuran Am Malaysia (PIAM), the industry may face claims of between RM2-3bil. These estimates include actual and potential personal lines and commercial risks claims directly resulting from the recent flash floods and the upcoming monsoon season in the weeks and months ahead.

Corporate

CTOS Digital has proposed to acquire a 49% stake in Juris Technologies, a software development company, for RM205.8mil cash. In addition, CTOS has also proposed to acquire an additional 2.25% stake in its Thai-based associate company, Business Online PCL (BOL), for not more than RM34.9mil. Both the above acquisition will be funded via a proposed private placement of up to 10% of its existing share base.

In contract news, Pestech International won a RM743mil KLIA Aerotrain tender project from Malaysia Airport. This includes the upgrading works for the 1.2km automated people mover system at the airport, together with a 10-year operations and maintenance contract for the aerotrain. Meanwhile, Sunway Construction Group has received two Letters of Intent for the development of solar photovoltaic energy generating facilities with a total capacity of 100MW valued at RM385mil, while Tuju Setia has accepted Letters of Award from Sunway PKNS for the construction of two blocks of 38-storey service apartments and an eight-storey podium located in Kota Damansara for RM311.7mil to be carried out over 40 months.

In other news, Vertice and Consortium Zenith have mutually agreed to terminate the award of a RM815mil contract given to Buildermarque Construction (BC), a 50-50 joint venture between Vertice and Vizione Holdings, for the construction of a by-pass in Penang. Coastal Contracts announced that a consortium led by its joint-venture company, Coastoil Dynamic, has entered into a Service Agreement with a Mexican state-owned petroleum company to undertake an onshore gas conditioning plant project worth RM4.5bil. The construction period of the facility is estimated at 250 days, with a 10-year operations and maintenance contract thereafter.

AirAsia Group, which recently undertook a right issues exercise involving the issuance of Redeemable Convertible Unsecured Islamic Debt

Securities (RCUIDS) was undersubscribed as it only received 78.32% in valid acceptances and another 6.81% in total valid excess applications. Hence, some 193.2mil of the RCUIDS representing 14.87% will be fully subscribed by the underwriters of the rights issue. The RCUIDS were listed on Bursa Malaysia today. Meanwhile, the company also announced that its proposed private placement exercise involving the issuance of up to 20% of its issued shares is now deemed completed as it does not wish to place out remaining shares under the mandate.

Equity

World equity markets closed mostly firmer across the globe with gains of between 0.4% to as much as 2.1% on the DJIA. Markets that fell had modest losses of between 0.1% and 0.7%. The local bourse was again supported by bargain hunting and window dressing activities as it added another 27.19pts to close at 1,543.61 pts. This brings the index's cumulative two weeks' total gain to 58.97 pts or 4%, trimming the key benchmark index's year-to-date loss to 5.1% before taking into account today's closing.

For the week ended December 29, foreigners returned as the largest net buyers with an inflow of RM175.9mil, followed by local institutions with net buying amounting to RM5.5mil. With that, the retail participants emerged as net sellers in the market with an outflow of RM181.2mil. With just two market trading days to go, statistics for 2021 looks heavily tilted to retail market participants with an inflow of RM12.32bil for the year, as both the local institution and foreigners emerged as net sellers with an outflow of RM9.25bil and RM3.07bil respectively.

Eye on Week Ahead

Later today, China's official manufacturing and non-manufacturing Purchasing Managers' Index (PMI) for Dec will be released, with the market expecting a reading of 50.1 and 53.1 respectively.

Next week, a slew of December IHS Markit PMI is due. On Monday, January 3, the Eurozone Manufacturing PMI will be released with consensus expecting a 58.0 print, while the ASEAN Manufacturing PMI is due the next day, January 4. The J.P. Morgan Global Manufacturing PMI and the US Institute for Supply Management (ISM) Manufacturing PMI are also due on the same day, with the market expecting a slight dip to 60.2 from 61.1 for the latter. The Eurozone Composite PMI vis will be released on January 5, with consensus estimating a reading of 58.0, followed by the J.P. Morgan Global Composite PMI on January 6. Other key events include the release of the minutes of the US Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) last meeting on Wednesday, January 5.

Locally, later today, Bank Negara Malaysia will be releasing the detailed disclosure of Malaysia's International Reserves as at end of November 2021 as well as the November monthly banking statistic, while the IHS Markit Malaysia Manufacturing PMI for December will be released on Monday, January 3.

AIRPORT managed to tap on prospects of market recovery and garnered robust demand for its Senior Sukuk Wakalah with a final bid-to-cover ratio of more than 5 times the final issue size. On the back of this, AIRPORT had also successfully tightened the final price of the Senior Sukuk Wakalah substantially from the initial price guidance and the Senior Sukuk Wakalah was subsequently upsized from the initial target issue size of RM500.0 million to RM800.0 million.

HSBC Amanah Malaysia Berhad, Maybank Investment Bank Berhad and RHB Investment Bank Berhad are the Joint Lead Managers for the Sukuk Issuance.
